

Mocha Home Theater Component Center™

Mocha has two "hidden" acoustically transparent side compartments for optional subwoofers, stereo speakers or your DVD/CD library.

Enjoy Home Theater That's Visible Only When it Needs to Be

The beauty of your home should be enhanced by your home theater. Your home theater is where friends and family gather most often, and you've made every effort to ensure a rich and inviting atmosphere for them. Complete your home theater experience with an Eleganza Mocha™ Component Center that complements your décor while hiding all of your home theater components.

Elegant hardwood surfaces, gorgeous enameled doors and best of all: "invisible" home theater.

The ingeniously designed Mocha can accommodate your entire home theater. You can attach a flat screen TV using the optional mounting bracket, add a home theater sound system with the optional InvisiSound™ Frame, conceal built-to-fit subwoofers inside hidden compartments and put your DVD player, amplifiers, power voltage stabilizer, receiver and other components behind the doors.

You can live with high technology.

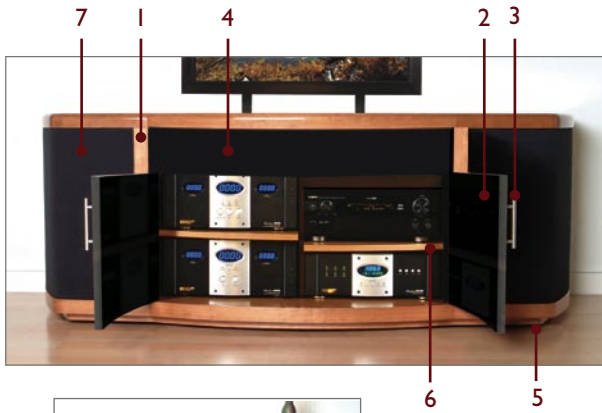

Mocha lets you adopt new technologies without having them take over your home. You can now enjoy the benefits of modern day entertainment without compromising your taste and style. See how Mocha and Eleganza Sound Systems can incorporate home theater into your lifestyle. See what life is like...behind closed doors.

Elegant. Beautiful. Invisible. Amazing. Eleganza by M•Design.
